Hear, O sons, a father's instruction, and be attentive, that you may
gain insight,
for I give you good precepts;
do not forsake my teaching.

Excerpt from 101 Cups of Coffee
by George Reddin:

“It’s been a long time since my last visit with Dad at his home in Conway, AR, five months after he preached in our revival at Paramount Baptist Church near Wiggins, MS. Our daughter Joanna was two months old. We took Daddy’s picture as he rocked her to sleep in the same rocking chair he purchased when I was a baby. That visit occurred during Christmas in 1971. I was 26 years old, and Dad was 53...

“I wish I had taken more time during that visit to share my heart with my Dad. I believe he knew how I felt, but I wish I had told him how much I admired his commitment to the Lord, his leadership among our churches...

“I wish I had told him the honor I felt to have served as pastor of two churches he had served years before...

“I wish he could have lived to see Joanna grow up and to know our son Sam and our grandchildren, Carly and Caleb Allen.

“Six weeks after that last visit to Daddy’s house... he moved to his heavenly home. That was 42 years ago, but his imprint on my life has never faded.

“What are some features you admire in your Dad? Have you told him?”
