

Each one must give
as he has decided
in his heart,
not reluctantly or
under compulsion,
for God loves
a cheerful giver.

HOW DO WE MEASURE THE SUCCESS OF OUR ONLINE MINISTRY?

What is “organic reach”? If you pay attention to our weekly offering and attendance reports, you may have asked yourself (or me) that very question. It is just one of the metrics that we use to determine the success of our ministry online.

Every week, we report the number of live-view families, online long views and the organic reach. Let me break these down for you to help us all understand what we’re measuring.

The Organic Reach refers to the number of people who see our post in their timeline. Last week, that number was 80 people. This week, it climbed to 221 people. What made it go up so much? (You might ask...) It’s really quite simple, the post was shared by two people instead of just one. One share made that big of a difference!

What this means for you is this: if you are blessed by the worship time or teaching of the Word, would you share that service on social media and include a simple comment about what

made it special to you?

The impact of you doing that small thing will have a tremendous effect on our online ministry presence!
