Today marks the halfway point (in Sundays) for Pastor David's time of sabbatical leave. Are you praying for him and his family?

We've been considering some of the reasons every pastor needs this time of sabbatical leave. The third reason why is that:

#3—He Needs Time for Self-Analysis

You might not realize this, but it is common for pastors to struggle with cynicism and disappointment. Conflict in the ministry can eat away at the joy of serving. Conflict, criticism from church members, betrayal and simply being stretched too thin contribute to negative dispositions. Getting away on sabbatical gives a pastor the opportunity to evaluate his heart.

Having time to process these emotional burdens is crucial to the spiritual health of the pastor, and that contributes to his longevity at the church, which is one of the keys to effective ministry

Please pray for the McEuen kids this week as mom and dad get away for a few days of vacation, and pray for their safety as they travel.

Thank you to everyone who helped this past week in the clean-up and decluttering project here at the church! Your service was invaluable! Thank you!!
